PRESIDENT'S NOTE

We are excited to present our 2012 product offering which continues to grow every year. Two years ago we introduced you to KitchenArt®, a unique line of patented measuring gadgets and spice storage products, as well as Anchor glassware. Last year we brought you Doughmakers Bakeware®, Outset® Grillware and Chillware, and Kingsford® Grill-top Collection. This year we welcome celebrity chef Guy Fieri and his line of grillware to the Fox Run Brands family.

Fox Run Brands has been serving the culinary industry for over 40 years. We maintain our focus each and every day – to deliver with care, one of the most comprehensive lines of products and brands to specialty and independent retailers throughout North America. As we continue to grow, we strive to maintain who we are – a family-owned company. We look forward to serving you, our customer, and to helping you be successful in 2012!

Sincerely,

Sean Leonard President

STUFFED JALAPEÑO PEPPERS RECIPE

- 16 medium-sized jalapeño peppers*
- 3-4 oz cream cheese, softened
- 3/4 1 C shredded cheddar cheese
- 1 clove garlic, diced
- 2-3 green onions, sliced
- 2-3 sun dried tomatoes (oil-packed), chopped
- 8 slices bacon, halved (optional)
- salt and pepper to taste
- water-soaked toothpicks (5 minutes of soaking)

Preheat grill to medium. Cut off top of each pepper and carefully core the pepper, removing all seeds. If you do not have a jalapeno corer, a vegetable peeler is a good kitchen tool for hollowing out peppers. Remember the oils in jalapeno peppers are very hot, so take care not to touch your face or eyes. Place peppers upright in roasting holes.

In bowl, mix cream cheese, cheddar cheese, garlic, onion, tomatoes, salt and pepper. Put mixture in pastry bag and pipe cheese evenly into peppers. A knife or spoon may also be used to stuff the peppers. If desired, wrap upper half of each pepper with a 1/2 slice of bacon and skewer with water-soaked toothpick. The water helps keep the toothpicks from catching fire.

Grill peppers until bacon is done, about 20-30 minutes. Serve hot.

* The size of jalapeño peppers may vary by grocer, region and season. If peppers are too small, skewer them with water-soaked toothpicks to keep peppers from falling through roasting holes.
